Dear Folks,

Well I guess you wondered why I haven't been writing lately. It's just been too busy. I've been reporting 16 hrs. a day in the mess hall, and hard, that's no joke. I haven't had time to look up Murray & I didn't get, but I will when I start school either this Mon. or next.

Memphis is a pretty nice place. The people are swell to you here. It's not at all dirty.
It's about the cleanest place I was ever in.

I've had a nice U.S.C.
and Mary Canten here.

I think maybe it will get this weekend old and will go to church in Memphis.

this glad I didn't go to ordnance now because of ordnance over 5'10" don't get to fly I passed my flight physical the other day and I was measured at 5'11 $\frac{1}{2}$ ".

I have is an operational piece and Corpus Christi and should be able to go to operational base I don't get time to look at weather in town and the ship services here doesn't any sort but I will go back to it with eyes would buy me a photo proof orientation watch and send it to me.

We will take some shot gun shooting here and I have been found to be right handed and left eye, which means that should have been left handed in the first place. I will have to shoot from my left shoulder, for some reason.
I will be taught to shoot with both eyes open.

See

graduate here (Maurice will get it next week)

His brother who played Right tackle and was plenty good was killed last week in the Marines.
